Seein' Spots Farm in Ballard has some adorable baby miniature donkeys right now. They are so cute! And much nicer than miniature horses, too.

The farm is at 2509 Baseline just above the village of Ballard in the Santa Ynez Valley. They have a website, which you can see here. Their donkeys are pretty famous..they've even been on Ellen DeGeneres.

Visitors can go to the farm 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday to Sunday. They ask for donations to help out their rescue donkeys.

One of the newest babies on hand right now is Black Bart. He's just a week old and so soft and shiny. That's Mrs. Marchi holding him in photo no. 2. In photo No 3, Noah (the little boy) is hanging out with another baby named Taylor Swift. Photo No. 7 is Rock Star. Check out his hairdo.

They also have a zonkey at the farm (second to last photo). Look for it on the left hand side of the driveway.
